

CORE CAPABILITY

Micromedex toxicology

Answers when seconds matter

Micromedex toxicology, one of the the core capabilities of Micromedex, helps clinicians quickly identify and manage toxicological exposures. It provides reliable, evidence-based information on commercial products, chemicals, drugs, toxic plants, and animals. Micromedex toxicology, also known as POISINDEX, is designed to assist in both common and complex situations, ultimately helping to save lives when time is critical.

Whether users require detailed information or a quick summary, POISINDEX provides the necessary resources for toxicology-related inquiries.

Micromedex was ranked as Best in KLAS 2023 for clinical decision support: point-of-care clinical reference. Micromedex is a market-leading solution that can help the entire care team be more confident in their decisions, supporting the highest level of patient care.
